See Close Vote On Guam Proposal In Senate

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Senators today voted on the proposal for military improvements on the Pacific island of Guam, increased today as debate on the $38,000,000 army expansion bill ranged over the entire field of American foreign relationships.

Majority Leader Barkley said his checkup indicated a "very close vote" when the senate begins balloting on navy proposals to spend $5,000,000 improving the American-owned island. The house rejected the Guam proposal, but Barkley scanned the senate ranks and said: "There seems to be a definite swing in favor of the project over here."

Symbol of Opposing Issues
Navy plans for Guam were not even a part of the army expansion bill under consideration, but somehow the tiny "sand dune in the Pacific" became a symbol for opposing schools of thought on national defense. Guam provided an issue that clearly traced senate cleavage between supporters and opponents of a foreign policy of strict isolation.

Barkley hoped to get a debate limitation agreement that would assure a final vote on the army expansion bill tomorrow. Discussion on the bill stirred up debate on international questions that was so heated at times that it extended to personalities.

Formal consideration of Guam improvement will come in the senate only after the naval affairs committee has approved the pending naval air base bill. Open hearings on this legislation before the naval committee will begin Monday.

Marshal Petain Named Ambassador To Spain

PARIS, March 2.—Marshal Henri Petain, France's greatest living soldier and World War hero, today officially was named French ambassador to the Franco government in Spain.

Marshal Petain, 82 years old, defended Verdun during the World War and became commander-in-chief of the French forces on the western front.

Petain was unanimously named to the post by the French council of ministers, which met this morning to name an envoy to Generalissimo Franco's capital at Burgos.

The council of ministers acted at the proposal of Premier Edouard Daladier, who received a letter from the aged marshal accepting the ambassadorship, providing the appointment be considered as effective for only three months at the most.

Jose Maria Quinones De Leon, Franco's representative in Paris, has notified the French foreign office that Petain is acceptable to the Franco government.

It is expected that at the end of three months the marshal will be succeeded by M. Peyrou, at present French ambassador to Argentina.

Army Weather Testing Instruments Come Sailing Out Of Sky Wednesday

One of the latest meteorology instruments of the United States government came sailing out of the sky on the end of an army parachute Wednesday afternoon, and landed on the bank of the Mahoning river, one mile south of Mahoningtown, near the city disposal plant.

Garrett B. Hull, of 411 Bartram avenue, who is employed on a WPA project at the disposal plant, saw the instrument box come to earth and he went after it.

On top of the box was the remainder of a gas balloon, and quite a large parachute. There were papers and letters of instruction with the box. It was learned that the equipment had been released from Patterson Field, O., on February 20.

Inside the box, Hull reported, was found a very small battery-operated radio set and a meteorograph. Small (Continued On Page Two)

Hint Third Arrest In Alleged Attempt To Influence Jury

Two Men Have Already Been Arrested On Orders Of District Attorney Dewey

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 2.—A third arrest in the alleged attempt to influence one of the members of the jury that last week convicted James J. Hines, the Tammany politician, was hinted in official quarters today.

Two men, Henry J. Ficke, 38, and Salvatore Di Sapio, 36, have already been arrested by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

A spokesman at Dewey's office would neither confirm nor deny reports that a third man was under investigation.

Ficke was accused of telephoning and later visiting the wife of Harry Coon, juror No. 6 at the trial, and dropping a hint to her that acquittal for Hines would make it "worth while" for her husband. The charges against Di Sapio were not immediately given in detail.

"The arrest of my husband is an outrage," said Mrs. Di Sapio. "He has absolutely no connection with the Hines case."

Hines was found guilty on 13 charges of supplying political protection to the "Dutch Schultz" numbers ring.

Light Sentence Is Given Dodd

Former Ambassador To Germany
Fined $250 For Hit-Run Accident In Virginia

(International News Service)
HANOVER, COURTHOUSE, Va., March 2.—William E. Dodd, former U. S. Ambassador to Germany and noted historian, was fined $250 today in Hanover county circuit court after he pleaded guilty to a charge of hit-and-run driving.

By the plea of guilty, Dodd was deprived of his right to vote, since hit-and-run driving is a felony in Virginia. His license to drive an automobile was automatically revoked.

The court pronounced the light sentence on the elderly former diplomat because of his falling health and the fact that Dodd had "always been a law-abiding citizen."

Dodd changed a previous plea of "not guilty" to "guilty" as soon as court convened. The jury was discharged immediately, but the court called a procession of witnesses before passing sentence.

These witnesses testified on the former ambassador's weakened physical condition and this, the court said, was a major factor in determining the $250 fine.

Relief Boards Asked To Quit

(BULLETIN)
HARRISBURG, March 2.—Governor Arthur H. James extended his shakeup of the state relief administration today by calling for the resignation of all members of county boards of public assistance.

The wholesale request for resignations, set forth in letters addressed to board members of 67 counties, followed the disclosure yesterday that the governor had asked four members of the state board of assistance and 117 members of county boards to resign.

A number of those asked to resign will be reappointed, he said.

The chief executive announced that names of appointees to boards in 30 counties will be submitted to the senate for approval.

Labor Observers Amazed At Tobin's Move—First Meeting In Parley Scheduled

WASHINGTON, March 2.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today announced appointment of Thomas A. Rickert, second vice president of the A. F. of L., to the federation's committee that will attempt to negotiate peace with the congress of industrial organizations.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Withdrawal of Daniel J. Tobin from the American Federation of Labor committee that will try to negotiate a peace with the Congress of Industrial Organizations today cast an ominous shadow over the presidentially-inspired peace conferences, even before they started.

While Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins said the first of what was expected to be a protracted series of peace meetings would be held early next week, Tobin, head of the A. F. of L.'s powerful Teamsters Union and the man who, among federation leaders, had fought hardest for labor unity, announced his eleventh-hour refusal to serve on the A. F. of L.'s committee of three.

Green May Serve

His action left the way open for William Green, A. F. of L. president, to name himself to head the federation committee. John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., had named himself to head the C. I. O. committee of three as both he and Green had appointed the peace groups at the written request of President Roosevelt.

Federation officials, however, said it was unlikely that Green would be one of the negotiators.

Tobin, in wiring Green his resignation from the committee, gave as the official reason "an enormous amount of work" and wage conferences which he faces. Lewis, the C. I. O. head, also faces important wage negotiations with coal operators in New York City in 12 days.

Amazed At Action

Labor observers in the Capital were amazed at Tobin's action. The C. I. O. said that Tobin's Teamsters Union, which has 300,000 members, (Continued On Page Two)

Cardinal Pacelli Elected As Pope On Third Ballot

Sacred College Of Cardinals Elects Successor To Pope Pius XI Quickly

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE TO CROWD

New Pope Will Be Known As Pope Pius XII It Is Proclaimed

(BULLETIN)

VATICAN CITY, March 2.—The sacred college of Cardinals, meeting in secret conclave, today chose Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli of Italy as successor to Pope Pius XI as supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic church.

The election, one of the speediest in the history of the church, raised to the pontificate the brilliant and gifted diplomatist who served as Papal secretary of state under Pope Pius.

The new Pontiff, in tribute to his beloved predecessor, chose the title of Pope Pius XII.

Cardinal Pacelli was born in Italy in 1876 and created a Cardinal in 1929 by Pope Pius XI.

At the death of Pope Pius, he was named Camerlengo, or Chamberlain of the Holy Roman church and as such carried on the duties of the Pontiff during the period of "Sede Vacante" since Pius' passing.

Breaks Tradition

The choice of Cardinal Pacelli broke a long-standing tradition that secretaries of state are not to be chosen as Pontiff. It carried on tradition, however, in that his election meant another Italian occupant by the Papal throne.

Cardinal Pacelli was chosen on the third ballot cast on the first day of voting. His choice was made known to countless thousands gathered in the huge square of St. Peter's church by a thin white column of (Continued On Page Two)

Crew Of Disabled Steamer Removed

Steamer Newfoundland Races To Rescue Of Crew Of S. S. Ranger In Heavy Seas

(International News Service)
CHATHAM, Mass., March 2.—After a race through heavy north Atlantic seas, the steamer Newfoundland started taking off members of the crew of the S. S. Ranger which reported early today that it was leaking badly and barely able to remain afloat off the gulf of St. Lawrence.

Word of the rescue was intercepted by the radiomarine coastal station at Chatham.

When the Newfoundland reached the disabled sealing vessel, members of the S. S. Ranger's crew were using buckets to keep the vessel afloat. Huge waves pounded the Ranger, which at 3:12 a. m. sent the following message to the S. S. Imogene:

"We are just about holding our own by use of buckets. Engines filled up and not running. We are drifting off St. Lawrence. Terrible row now but getting better. Are you coming to our assistance please?"

Lloyd's registry lists the Ranger as a wooden vessel of 520 tons built in 1871.

MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—President Roosevelt headed home today from his Atlantic City, N. J., address, devoting a portion of his time to the writing of a speech he will deliver Saturday before a joint session of congress.

Following hard on the navy's maneuvers, the president was expected to smash into the troubled European situation in his Saturday address with a further exposition of America's foreign policy.

Objection to continued encroachment on so-called Democratic states by Germany, Italy and Japan was anticipated as the thesis of the president's next nationally-broadcast address. Already, Mr. Roosevelt has advocated a "hemispherical defense" and suggested a "quarantine" of "aggressor nations."

Brasseil was captured after his car dashed. With him were Gordon Dodson, 21, and John Kavanaugh, also 21. They were arrested after Brasseil's car struck another machine and kept going, with sub-patrolman Max Eling commanding another car and following.

Eling fired five shots in the mile-long chase before Brasseil was hit. The youth was charged with being a hit-run driver, driving without a license and resisting an officer.

Dodson and Kavanaugh were accused of resisting an officer and hit-run.

Two Children Burn To Death

Father And Sister Also Seriously Burned In Blaze At Connellsville

MOTHER ESCAPES WITH BABY SON

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 2.—Two children were burned to death and their father and 4-year-old sister seriously injured today when the bungalow-type home in which they lived was burned to the ground.

The dead were Dolores Jean Kmetz, age 6, and her younger brother, Paul Edward Kmetz, Jr., age 3.

In a hospital were Paul E. Kmetz, Sr., 32, and the child he saved from a fiery death, Rita Marie, age 4.

Mother Escapes

The mother, Gladys, 25, escaped from the burning dwelling after she was awakened by smoke pouring into her bedroom. She hastily gathered up her tiny one-year-old baby boy, Eugene, and fled to the home of her brother-in-law, Steve Kmetz, to summon aid.

The father succeeded in saving Rita Marie at the peril of his own life, and was badly burned about the body as a result, but when he attempted to re-enter the blazing building to bring out the other two children he was forced to abandon his efforts because of the intense heat of flames.

Room Aflame

Kmetz, an unemployed coal miner, said he built a fire in a stove in the children's room and then went into the kitchen to start the kitchen fire. A short while later, he told authorities, he saw the children's room aflame.

The house was a three-room bungalow which Kmetz had himself built last May. He said he thought the fire probably started when the stove pipe became overheated and ignited the ceiling.

Hospital attaches said that Rita Marie was not badly burned and that the father also would probably survive.

Indiana Farm Tragedy Is Cleared Up Police Report Today

PRISONER DENIES ATTACKING GIRL

(International News Service)
VANDALIA, Ill., March 2.—Police announced today that Clifford Redmond, 27, had confessed the slaying of an Indiana farm couple after a drunken celebration of his birthday.

The young man, officers said, denied charges, however, that he had also attacked the couple's 12-year-old daughter.

The victims of the slaying were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brand, for whom Redmond had worked as a fieldhand on their farm near Edinburg, Ind., for the past four years.

Seized Near Vandalia
Redmond was seized yesterday near Vandalia, 200 miles from the scene of the crime, as Indiana and Illinois police spread a net for his capture.

According to the purported confession, Redmond said he sold his hound dog for $5 and bought a supply of liquor to celebrate his birthday. He had returned in a stupor, he said, and shot the couple with his 22 caliber rifle as they lay in bed asleep.

The Brand's daughter, Gloria, said she had heard the noise but was afraid to leave her room. Redmond, she said, came in a little later and attacked her.

Roughly Handled
Police said that one of the two men, apparently roughly handled, his body covered with blood, was jammed into the closed rumble seat of the coupe. The body of the second man was stretched limply across the front seat of the machine.

Coroner Sidney Kallaway, making a cursory examination, was unable to determine immediately how long the men had been dead. He said, however, that the shooting had apparently occurred sometime during the night. There were no indications, however, as to whether either of the men had driven the car or whether someone else had driven them into an ambush.

The car, covered with mud, had to be dragged from the mire on the country road by a wrecking car.

MORE ITALIANS CALLED TO ARMS

tion of a new pope—gathered in front of the manifestos, starting at ten in silence.

Men previously rejected as unfit for military service because of short stature were ordered to present themselves again for examination.

The manifesto was headed in large black type: "A Call to Arms."

It ordered all men born in the years mentioned to report to their regiments.

Mussolini previously called four different classes—those of 1895, 1901, 1902 and 1903—but most of the components of these groups were discharged, leaving under arms only about 60,000 members of the classes of 1901 and 1902 and about 60,000 members of the other two classes.

One New Class
The classes of 1918 and 1919 called up today comprise the normal conscript classes which are called to the colors at this time each year.

The call to the colors of the 1918 and 1919 classes is tantamount to keep under arms the conscripts who have finished their training.

The only new class actually called is that of 1915.

In view of these facts Mussolini's mobilization move is considered more a preparatory step than an indication of any immediate emergency.

These military preparations, following so closely upon the slogan given the nation by Il Duce yesterday, clearly indicated Mussolini's determination to be ready to back up an anticipated joint Italo-German demand for redistribution of the world's colonial wealth.

smoke arising from the roof above the Sistine Chapel where the conclave was assembled.

The selection of Pacelli was regarded by competent observers as the proof of the determination of the college of Cardinals to carry on the work and ideals of the late Pope Pius XI. He had been attacked as a potential candidate by the Nazi press because of his assiduity in carrying out the doctrines of his predecessor, who was bitterly opposed to racialism and religious persecution of any sort.

Visited U. S.
Pope Pius XII will go down in history as the first supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic church ever to visit the United States.

That the college of cardinals had attained a two-thirds majority in behalf of one of their number was made known by the column of white smoke at 5:30 p. m. (11:30 a. m., E. S. T.), but a lengthy delay occurred before the world knew the name of his successor.

Pope Pius XII had to be dressed in the white robes of his pontificate and each of the remaining 61 cardinals reverently kissed his hand.

At 6:04 p. m. (12:04 p. m., E. S. T.), the doors of the loggia were opened and a light tapestry slung over the balcony above the main door of the cathedral.

The tapestry depicted the sacred heart on a field of white bordered in royal purple and bearing the pontifical cross with the crossed keys of St. Peter.

Announcement Made
A few moments later, while the crowd below stood motionless in strained silence, Cardinal Deacon Camillo Caccia-Dominione stepped to the balcony and in sonorous Latin proclaimed:

"I announce to you a great joy. We have a pontiff, the Most Eminent Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, who takes for his name Pope Pius XII."

In all the breath-taking pomp of the election, there was one homely touch. Cardinal Pacelli rose to the highest rank in the Catholic church, that of wearer of the triple crown that identifies him as Vicar of Christ on earth and 261st successor of St. Peter on the occasion of his 63rd birthday.

He was born on March 2, 1876.

Thus Eugenio Pacelli, long an intimate friend of Pope Pius XI and often named as the latter's own choice for succession, took the torch from the dead hand of his predecessor to lead the church in its unending fight against the forces of chaos and subversion.

Extends Blessing
At 6:24 p. m. (12:24 p. m., E. S. T.), the new pontiff appeared on the balcony to extend his blessing "urbis et orbis"—to the city and to the world.

The breath-taking climax of the historic event came as a mauve cloak of dusk settled gently over the seething crowd.

Tumultuous cheering broke from the throats of more than 300,000 persons jammed in the square, hemmed in by barricades of troops and automobiles which blocked all approaches to the square.

The vast cathedral, with its stenna brown colonnades and geometric pattern that all seemed so dead during the interregnum since the death of Pius XI, seemed suddenly to come to life.

The bells of St. Peter's rang out in joyous chime. Light standards throughout the square burst into life like clusters of jewels. The Sistine chapel intoned the hymn of jubilation, its magnificent voices being carried throughout Rome by a system of amplifiers.

At this moment, the new pontiff was receiving the "adoratio"—homage from the 61 of whom he was a member only a few moments before.

Logical Choice
To many, Cardinal Pacelli had seemed a logical choice from the outset. He is regarded as one of the most brilliant diplomats in the history of the Vatican and his long and close association with Pius XI, who raised him to the cardinalate, was held to qualify him more than any other man for the supreme post.

That the sacred college would have no hesitancy in breaking down a precedent of centuries to elect a papal secretary of state was clearly evidenced when the conclave began yesterday.

At that time, this correspondent was informed on unimpeachable authority that Cardinal Pacelli was assured of 36 votes, or only a few less than the two-thirds majority needed. That he obtained the majority on the third ballot was a strong indication that the college had virtually decided upon him before its deliberations even began officially.

Three times only was it necessary for the 62 to inscribe their choices on ballots bearing quotations from the scriptures and drop them into a chalice before the altar in the Sistine chapel for counting.

Elected On Third
Twice only did he fail to achieve the necessary majority. On the third, he emerged as the choice of the Roman Catholic hierarchy as their elected ruler.

As the lights under the historic colonnades cast fantastic shadows over the joyous masses and threw the pillars into bold relief, the crowd joined in the hymnal and out of St. Peter's Square roared the "Melisilas", a manifestation of victory, praise and hope.

The strong voice of the new pope choked with emotion as he stepped out onto the balcony and imparted the famous blessing—gesturing his thin hands to the crowd below, to the city beyond and to the world far away.

Tears streamed from his eyes when the crowd rose to its feet at conclusion of the blessing and let loose a roar of approval for the choice had been made. With a final salute to the faithful gathered beneath him, the new pontiff slowly withdrew from the balcony.

Attendants removed the white papal tapestry and the crowd began to filter out of the piazza. The drama closed with St. Peter's dome sharply limned against a steel grey sky.

ARMY WEATHER INSTRUMENTS SAIL DOWN FROM SKY

peanut tubes were used in the radio set, and instructions directed the finder to empty the acid from the small battery.

These instruments are being sent out by the U. S. Army weather posts to determine conditions in atmosphere in various parts of the country and at different heights.

After the box is released it soars into the air several miles. At a certain height the balloon bursts and the parachute automatically opens, drifting the precious records to earth.

Hull followed the instructions and sent a letter to Washington, D. C., telling of finding, location, time, and other information. He then sent the find, radio and meteorograph to the Signal Supply Officer, New York General Depot, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For his services, the letter in the box stated that Hull would be compensated by the war department.

The U. S. S. Houston, aboard which the president has been following the war games and getting in a bit of incidental fishing, pursued a steady course up from the West Indies today. Hollywood Director Resigns Academy Post

By MILTON HARKER

(Copyright, 1939.)

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, March 2—Bitter opponent of the present system of making the annual screen awards, W. S. Van Dyke, one of Hollywood's most famous directors, has resigned from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Van Dyke, who directed "Marie Antoinette," "Stand Up and Fight," "Sweethearts," the thin man pictures and many other successes first tendered his resignation a week ago Monday, four days before the Academy dinner, but was persuaded to withdraw it. Now that the fan-fare over the "Oscars" has subsided the resignation is being reconsidered.

He is informed the Academy he's not coming back because he feels motion picture producers play too great a part in Academy affairs and awards.

Van Dyke's step came as the climax of an undercover dispute between directors and producers.

Van Dyke's principal opposition, it was learned, is directed against campaigns waged for votes at various studios in behalf of whatever stars they may have nominated for the awards. He has informed his associates that he feels every studio and producer should keep hands off in the election of people to receive the industry's highest awards.

His attitude is summed up in this way:

"What's the use of giving awards if we are going to have all kinds of maneuvering during the election?"

Academy supporters deny that the election of anyone can be influenced because since the rules were changed two years ago to permit every one in the industry to vote instead of just the 1,000 members of the Academy.

They argue that of the 12,000 votes almost 8,000 are cast by extras who work for no particular studio and therefore not subject to any influence.

More will be heard of this dispute before another Academy dinner rolls around.

A prize for the trickiest screen costume of the week should go to Alice Faye. She wears it to sing the title number of "Rose of Washington Square" at 20th Century-Fox.

She wears a tight fitting black and white checked blouse, a tighter fitting patent-leather skirt which comes just to her knees, net stockings and black pumps with rhinestone heels. A jaunty black beret and a long string of big red beads complete the ensemble.

The skirt particularly intrigues even Alice. She has to sit down at her dressing table after she sings the song so Alice sits down once very slowly and gently. Then she sits down a second time a little quicker and finally she sits down hurriedly.

Says Alice:

"The way this skirt feels I just wanted to make sure in advance that nothing untoward would happen."

Reflections

By J. K.

There is a law of mankind which exists as surely as the law of gravity and it is difficult to know whether it is good or bad.

It is the law of the leveling of people. It is the force which impels us to reach up and pull down the strong, and to reach down and pull up the weak. It is a strange mixture of envy and compassion, a communistic potion which tends to regimentalize mankind and make all persons who are created equal, stay equal. It crushes many a genius. It ends many an ambition. Only the strongest and bravest of men can rise above the level and stay there. On the other hand, only the most depraved can sink below the level and be allowed to lie undisturbed.

In many ways this leveling process is a commendable thing. It may tend to make man a somewhat colorless species, but it keeps him sane. It gives him a smooth cut path that allows for very little deviation, a path that guarantees to lead him from cradle to grave without stumbling his toe, and it gives him the companionship of other men who look, think, act and talk exactly like him.

Yes, in many ways it is a commendable thing. And yet, to what heights might the occasional Super Man climb if the masses would let him be? It is interesting to contemplate such a thing.

Want of compassion is not to be numbered among our general faults, wrote Henry Fielding. "The black ingredient which fouls our disposition is envy. Hence our eye is seldom, I am afraid, turned upward to those who are manifestly greater, better, wiser or happier than ourselves, without some degree of malignity; while we commonly look downwards on the mean and miserable with sufficient benevolence and pity."

White Fire-Truck To Go To Seventh Ward

Charles Colnot, motor mechanic for the city, said a White fire-truck, bought some years ago, has been practically rebuilt and will be sent to the Seventh ward fire department. Since rebuilding he estimates the worth of the truck at $5,000.

The White truck was bought in 1914 and assigned to the Park Avenue department. Later it was sent to the Ray street department.

When the new LaFrance was bought, a fire-truck which was at the Ray street department was sent to the Seventh ward and the LaFrance assigned to the Ray street department. The White truck was taken out of service and sent to the motor repair shop where it was rebuilt.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Crash of cannon from Alps to Sicily salutes the memory of the father of Fascist Italy—not Mussolini, who was but a borrower of another man's ideas—but Gabriel D'Annunzio, the most versatile Italian since Leonardo da Vinci. One year ago, on March 1, he let go his tight hold on life and departed for his pagan paradise. But he left his impress on Italy.

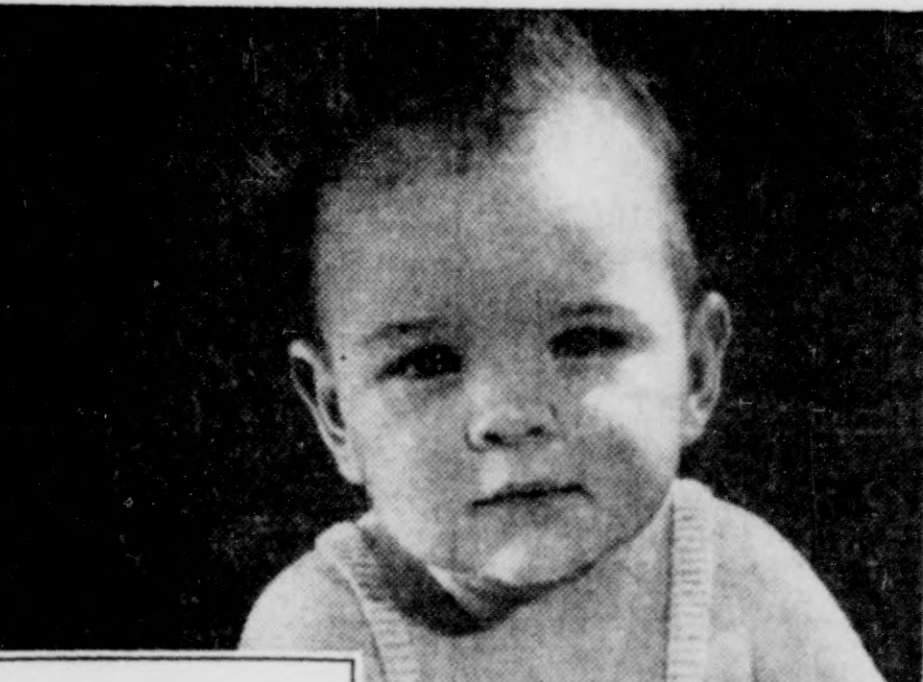

It is more the eagle spirit of D'Annunzio than the belted commands of Il Duce that sends Italy surging forward on heaven knows what perilous adventures. He was an incredible personality. This poet, playwright, war aviator, national hero and—as he himself was fond of saying in his perverse humor—national cat, Great lover and faithful lover, he was altogether the strangest personality who breathed the breath of life this half century past.

A dozen years ago I visited him in his superb island mansion on the shore of Lake Garda—"Vittoriale" named to commemorate Italy's victory in the World War, a perfect jewel of a villa, embedded in a grove of olives. The ascending and solitary road which led one there is an exquisite suggestion of the natural beauties of Italy. The atmosphere is laden with fragrance. The jeweled waters of lovely Lake Garda coquetted behind the trees. A little way off is the tiny island of Borghese. Over all is a solemn stillness.

Through the artistry of this strange man, the residence, surrounded by vast and gorgeous gardens, was transformed into a magic-like habitation. Its windows glowed and sparkled with 2,000 panes of colored glass—red, green, gold, blue. The walls of the rooms were done in suede leather. Every room had a special name, and there were some forty rooms. Everywhere in the villa from the Italian Foreign office, from Mussolini himself. "Modesty," he said, "is not for me."

So tremendously important did the Italian Government—Mussolini—hold his good will that the state paid him an annual pension of five million lire a year—or, at the present exchange rate, about $50,000 dollars. Just for his good will—to keep him friendly with Fascism.

He chuckled impishly when he said: "I? I am the national coquette." He received not only a huge annual pension but showers of presents—even a torpedo boat for his lake, and cannon, which he used to fire off every now and then to annoy a German baron who had an estate down along Lake Garda's shore, and whom D'Annunzio loathed with a thorough loathing.

Whatever Mussolini paid him whatever presents he received, was little enough for the service he rendered his native land, the bella Italia he adored to the depths of his soul. It was D'Annunzio who brought Italy into the war on the side of the Allies. It was D'Annunzio who learned to fly at the age of fifty-three, and flew so skillfully and so fiercely, this bald-eagle of a man, that he won the rank of lieutenant-colonel and innumerable decorations and lost an eye.

Single-handed he raided Austria, bombed Austrian cities and the great Austrian naval bases at Cattaro and Pola, and fired all Italy with his heroism. When the war ended he seized Fiume, across the Adriatic—and held it against every threat of the great powers. Then he withdrew into monastic seclusion, to emerge only when the tide of Fascism began to rise. Without the blessing of D'Annunzio, it is hardly likely that Mussolini's march on Rome could have succeeded. Colorful, flamboyant, sensational, he wrote in prose and poetry of physical beauty and sensual love, and his lines glowed with a strange fire.

Drop Aliens From W. P. A. Rolls Here

Non-Citizens Lose Rights With Works Progress Administration

AFFIDAVITS ARE TAKEN BY NOTARIES

All aliens found working on WPA projects in the local district are being summarily dismissed and sent back into relief rolls, Walter M. Todd, district manager of the Works Progress Administration here stated today. This is in accordance with recent regulations issued at Washington.

Notaries have been accompanying investigators who are interviewing everyone connected with the Works Progress Administration, including those employed in the office of the WPA here, and all on the rolls have been required to certify their citizenship. Those who are aliens are being dropped as fast as the transfer papers, sending them back onto relief, can be put through the office here, Mr. Todd stated.

The fact that aliens have made application for citizenship and have already secured their first papers does not preclude them from this ruling.

Additional employment has been given to a few more men on WPA projects in the county, but more have been added in Mercer and Beaver counties to bring their quota up to requirements. The Lawrence county quota was practically up to par, Mr. Todd stated.

Confesses Cruel Treatment Of Child

Two-Year-Old Child Branded With Stove-Lid Lifter Police Charge

(International News Service) LEWISTOWN, March 2.—A tale of intense, bitter cruelty—of the severe beating of a two-year-old child and the branding of the tot with a stove-lid-lifter—was confessed today by 22-year-old Paul William Barrick, Marysville, near Harrisburg, according to state motor police.

Barrick was being held here pending the outcome of the girl's injuries. Police said Barrick confessed to beating the baby "at least 50 times" in recent months because he was "jealous" of her unwed mother. Little Mariam Wolf, victim of the brutal assault, is in a critical condition in a Sunbury hospital, where authorities say she has been unconscious more than 72 hours. The left side of her face, her hands and feet were paralyzed; deep bruises were found on her face, neck and jaw, and numerous lacerations scarred her soft features.

The child's mother, Helen Wolf, about 24, domestic in a rural Juniata county home, was being held as a material witness. Corp. Richard Gray, of the Pennsylvania motor police, said Barrick admitted "branding" Mariam with a stove-lid lifter several weeks ago. On other occasions, Barrick told Gray, he "kicked, beat and choked her."

Missionary Society Day In Campaign

Expect Women's Societies Will Give Big Boost To Sunday Attendance

Next Sunday, March 5, will be "Missionary Society Day" in the "Four Star" increase campaign being sponsored by Lawrence county Sabbath School Association which will continue to and including Easter Sunday, April 9, and in which 60 Sunday schools are enrolled.

The Missionary Society ladies are quite a force in every church, and they hold a key position in increasing Sunday School attendance. Those that are mothers can not only see that the children attend but they can bring their husbands, as well, thus making the home 100 per cent in attendance.

The Central Presbyterian Sunday school has been added to the list of twenty Sunday schools participating in New Castle, these being divided into four groups. Wilmington, Plainville and Mt. Jackson districts have all of their Sunday schools participating. Ellwood City and Wampum districts have most of their Sunday schools lined up, and next Sunday there will be representations from Slippery Rock and Pottsville districts.

Study Plan To Build Tunnel Under Channel

Military Leaders Of France And Great Britain Favor Costly Project

FRESH PROPOSALS TO BE MADE SOON

By RUSSEL F. ANDERSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—Military chieftains of France and Great Britain today were reported to be reconsidering the oft-rejected plan of linking the two nations by a 22-mile tunnel under the English Channel between Dover and Calais.

Rejected eight years ago by a special British investigation committee, a revised form of the plan is now being studied by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the French Chamber, and it is expected that fresh proposals will be forthcoming in the near future.

The proposed tunnel, costing $50,000,000 and consisting of a roadway and two railway lines, would shorten the present boat-and-rail London to Paris trip by an hour and a half, and provide an important military link during any period of war.

Plan Called Feasible
The plan, which has been discussed off and on for the past 130 years, is feasible according to eminent engineers of both countries. It is proposed that the tunnel be built ninety-five feet below the bed of the channel in a solid layer of impervious chalk. Soundings have shown that underneath the chalk is a layer of clay, bolstered by a thick layer of Jurassic rock.

Military leaders believe that the tunnel would put an end to the submarine menace, and greatly facilitate the movement of men and materials in the event of war.

Regarding the plan, France's Marshall Foch once commented: "If the channel tunnel had been built it might have prevented the war, and in any event would have shortened its duration by one half."

When the last review of the problem in 1930 resulted in its being turned down, the British Channel Tunnel Committee reported that there was no real demand for the tunnel, that cross-channel shipping facilities would fall into decay as the result of its construction, and that the tunnel would lead to a feeling of insecurity which would bias Britain's policy in time of peace and dominate it in time of war.

British View Changed
Recent urgent military and economic changes are now said to have changed the British view, and it is understood that England will willingly entertain any French proposals.

The tunnel plan has a long history, and is known to have been discussed as early as 1802 by Napoleon, then first consul, and the British emissary, Charles Fox. From time to time, companies have been formed on both sides of the channel, and headings over a mile long have been driven from either coast.

Pro-tunnelers in England point out that strategic and economic arguments of equal strength were used against the construction of the Suez and Panama Canals, and that when the Channel tunnel is eventually completed there will be general agreement that it should have been built long ago.

ELECTRICITY KEEPS YOUTHS ON FARMS

HARRISBURG, March 2.—Rural electrification tends to keep young people on the farm instead of migrating to cities, according to the 1938 report of the federal rural electrification administration which was received here recently.

"A significant result of rural electrification is its influence on the stability of rural population," the report states. "Many reports have reached REA which points out that electrification slows up the drift of young peoples to the cities and allows country life to hold its own against the attractions of urban living."

Your Federal Income Tax

DEDUCTION FOR TAX ON MOTOR GAS

If a law which imposes a tax on business and pleasure, all of the maintenance and operating expenses connected therewith, which constitute allowable deductions for Federal income-tax purposes, should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time that it is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation for taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction for Federal income-tax purposes would be $600.

If a law which imposes a tax on gasoline shows that the tax is imposed on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for Federal income-tax purposes, the amount of gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as is required by the law and the regulations. The Federal gasoline tax is not deductible by the consumer. A taxpayer may ascertain whether the gasoline tax imposed by a state is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes, the tax may be added to the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but where that is done the gasoline tax cannot be deducted separately under the item of taxes.

Three Guild Plays Score With Crowd

Program Of One-Act Hits Entertains Audience Last Night

New Castle Civic Theater Guild players registered another stage triumph when they presented three entertaining one-act plays last night before an appreciative community audience in the George Washington junior-senior high school auditorium.

The first production was "Minuet," by Louis N. Parker. The second was "Moonshine," a North Carolina mountain play by Arthur Hopkins, and the third was a "thoroughbred" farce, "No, Not the Russians!" by Osmond Molarsky.

Appear in Plays
Ten guild performers took play parts.

The casts follow:
For "Minuet," which Miss Charlotte Bartlett directed, Marquis, John E. Perry; marchioness, Mrs. A. H. Borland, and Gaoler, A. Franklin Southwick.

For "Moonshine," directed by Mrs. James Green: Luke Hazy, a mountaineer moonshiner, James Wellington Smith; a revenue officer, A. Franklin Southwick.

For "No, Not the Russians!" directed by Mrs. John McIlwaine: Eric, Charles Randall; mother, Miss Margaret Toepfer; Alleen, Miss Alice Crawford; Joan, Miss Betty Mackey; father, Robert Turner, and Miss Jones, Miss Mottie Round.

The "Minuet" had for its historical background the French revolution, 1789-95, when democracy's supporters concentrated all on its brutal efforts to exterminate the nobility. The nobles' code of honor and of chivalry upheld them to the end. And in the one-act play their courage, courtliness and nonchalant attitude toward life were excellently portrayed.

"Moonshine" was centered around a North Carolina mountain hut, where a "revenue" saved his own life by quick-thinking.

The comedy of the evening, though, was "No, Not the Russians!" It provoked laughter from the opening to the end.

The next guild production and its date will be announced shortly.

San Bernardino county, California, is large enough to embrace the states of New Hampshire, New Jersey and Rhode Island.

Why March Has Many Dangers

March is considered by many the most dangerous month of the year, because the change of seasons is more than a good many people can stand.

Occasional sunny days give people a false feeling of security. Don't be misled! Colds are prevalent now, and thousands suffer from the after-effects of earlier colds. It is important that treatment be prompt—and dependable.

Start building up your system by taking Father John's Medicine. Its wholesome, nourishing ingredients, rich in vitamins, help increase strength and vigor. It has been used for 84 years for colds and to aid in developing strong, sturdy bodies.

State Authority

Controversy Not Concluded Yet

Republicans Demand Democrats On Board Resign Their Places

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 2.—For the fifth week in succession, business of the $65,000,000 general state authority was at a standstill today as Republican members, including Gov. Arthur H. James failed to turn up for the weekly meeting, thus preventing a quorum.

General state authority officials were attempting to settle the stalemate occasioned by the refusal of the Republican members to attend meetings until three Democratic members resigned in accordance with the governor's demands. This they have refused to do.

In the meantime, some 250 contractors were waiting for $2,000,000 due them for construction work on the authority program for January. Authority officials were fearful that some of them, tiring at the delay, would go into court and ask for a writ of mandamus to force payment.

Neglect in payment could be cited as a breach of contract by the authority, it was stated, and the contractors could sue for money due them to date and for anticipated contracts. In addition, it was said, they could stop work on the authority projects.

Political Ties

Must Be Severed

Warning Issued To Directors And Branch Managers Of W. P. A. In State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 2.—First effects of a congressional resolution regulating political activity on the federal works program reverberated in Pennsylvania today with a warning to 16 directors and branch office managers that official political affiliations are definitely "out."

Everett C. Smith, acting state WPA administrator, issued the ultimatum to members of his staff that they are not to retain any office with any political organization or committee.

Smith's action came from an interpretation of the resolution making it unlawful for any person employed by a federal agency paid by the funds of the emergency relief appropriation act of 1938 to take active part in political management or in political campaigns.

Directors and branch managers under Smith were asked to return signed statements before March 15 to the effect that all administrative and project supervisory employees had chosen either to retain their political affiliations or their WPA employment.

Smith hastily pointed out, however, that WPA employees can become members of a political club or organization but not officers.

Appeals Are Filed For Meadville Men

Superior Court Gets Appeal In Behalf Of Four Sentenced In Labor Trouble

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 2.—Appeals were on file in superior court here today for four union employees of the American Viscose plant at Meadville who were sentenced from one to three years each for the brutal beating of a fellow non-union worker.

The four men—Gordon Bell, Robert Gilmore, Lionel Reinhardt and Floyd Rouchie—were denied a new trial in the Crawford county court. They are all members of the Textile Workers Organizing Committee, a C.I.O. affiliate.

They were found guilty and sentenced in connection with the beating of Charles Farrar, non-union employee and father of six children, during an attempt by the union to obtain a "closed shop" agreement with the company.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Jersey Concern 'Fires' 200 Sit-Downers

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., March 2.—Acting under authority of Monday's U. S. supreme court decision condemning sit-down strikes, the J. E. Mergott Company has discharged more than 200 employees who staged a two-day sit-down in the company's Newark plant and in addition ordered 10 of them arrested.

Allan Underhill, president, and Emanuel T. Schech, counsel, made it emphatically clear today that the wholesale firings were ordered under authority of the U. S. supreme court decision.

"We took our action as a result of the decision of the United States supreme court and we intend to take full advantage of that action," said Schech. "If the supreme court had declared that dismissal was not justified, we would not have taken any such action."

"It was the decision of the supreme court that impelled us to take our action. We now believe we have the full protection of that court."

Samuel L. Rothbard, counsel for the New Jersey CIO, said the dismissal notices, mailed soon after Chief Justice Charles Evan Hughes handed down his decision in the Fansteel case Monday, will be ignored.

"We are not going to pay any attention to the letters," Rothbard said. "This is a strike and we are going to win it."

In the Fansteel Metallurgical Corp. case, Justice Hughes upheld the right of that firm to dismiss employees who had staged a sit-down strike. He also denied the right of the National Labor Relations Board to compel reinstatement of such strikers.

CONGENITAL MALFORMATIONS CAUSED SOLELY BY ACCIDENT OF BIRTH

Before going any further with our discussion of mechanical deficiencies which sometimes occur in the digestive tracts of new born babies I would like to say an additional word about those born with harelips, cleft palates and similar malformations. I have heard it said that such a condition in a child is a visitation upon it of the sins of its parents. That is not so. There is no evidence that any misuse of their bodies, has anything whatever to do with their baby's deformity.

These are accidents of birth. They occur equally in the rich and the poor, the good and the bad, the healthy and the unhealthy. It is just one of the chances which parents must take—that children may or may not be born normal. There is one bright side to it for the afflicted, however, there is no more chance that it will occur again in your family than in that of your healthy next-door neighbor.

Yesterday we discussed abnormalities of the esophagus which interfere with the passage of food to the stomach. Before we leave this subject I have another observation or two to make.

Occasionally a baby is born with an esophagus that stops before it reaches the stomach. I have never encountered such a case in my experience but, as I say, occasionally such a baby is born. When there is complete stoppage of this tube, then the milk the baby swallows is regurgitated, unchanged, as soon as it is swallowed. This is a hopeless situation, for seldom, if ever, has the life of such an unfortunate child been saved.

What I have seen, though, is a child born with a tube that somewhere in its length was too narrow. And I have occasionally dilated this very cautiously with a small tube so that the food could get through. If I can't I always send them to a specialist as a country doctor in my opinion should only do it if there is no other help available. If you suspect any of these deformities to be present in your child, your physician will very soon be able to tell you the truth by means of X-rays.

Having dealt with the deformities of the mouth and esophagus, we now have the food at the entrance to the stomach, and we will study what happens to it there. But in order to do so intelligently we ought first to study the nature of that organ, which later in life brings so much pleasure and so much pain.

The stomach is a thin-walled pouch that acts as a reservoir for the food we swallow while it is awaiting the process of digestion.

An empty stomach is very small but it grows larger and larger as food is put into it. In a new-born baby, the stomach only holds from one and a half to two ounces but it enlarges so rapidly that at the end of a month it usually holds four ounces. At the end of the fourth month it has doubled that capacity. This enlargement of capacity goes on and on as the child grows older until they get so they can put away the sizeable meals you must have seen some growing boys eat.

Democracy Best For All Nations Proven By Test

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 2.—Democratic leadership is best for the people and scientists can prove it to you in the laboratory.

Professor Ronald Lippitt, research assistant in child psychology at the University of Iowa explained how it was done.

He organized six clubs of children and placed each under the leadership of an adult. Some of the leaders were autocratic, others followed the Laissez-Faire system and the remainder were democratic in their policies.

Children under the autocrats became more dependent, he said. The Laissez-Faire instructor gave his children the idea that nothing was being accomplished.

Work under the democratic leaders was better in both quality and quantity.

TEN THOUSAND
PLANTS SELECTED

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 2.—The war department already has selected 10,000 industrial plants in the nation for the emergency manufacture of munitions "whenever the occasion arises," Louis A. Johnson, assistant secretary of war, said Wednesday.

Speaking before the Chicago Association of Commerce on "The Business of Peace," Johnson added: "Today these plants are engaged in ordinary peace time work. In an emergency they must be prepared to become veritable arsenals."

Declaring the war department in reality was in the "business of peace" and had no desire for conquest or power, Johnson continued:

To Discourage Attack
"It merely asks for defensive forces strong enough to discourage nations bent on trespass from disturbing our person. Upon these plants will fall the responsibility of keeping America geared to meet a struggle which might mean our very survival."

Upon the manufacture of 55 "critical items," America bases its hopes for victory in any conflict in which it may become embroiled, Johnson said. The industrial needs of our army include 7,300 items or processes of manufacture. All 55 easily can be manufactured under the present setup without special training.

"The troublesome 55, however, represent the most vital items of the national defense program," Johnson continued. "At the suggestion of the president, the house of representatives has authorized $42,500,000 for 'educational orders' to prepare industry for war time tasks."

Opposite of 1917
The army's needs, he said, are the "exact opposite of 1917" because then the allies had the munitions but were short of man power.

"Today, he said, 'the foreign munitions markets are closed to us, particularly in modern aircraft. If we suddenly needed military weapons we would have to look entirely to ourselves. It behooves us, therefore, to develop our own munitions.' Johnson stressed that the first step was to fully equip the 400,000 enlisted men and officers of the regular army and National Guard, and called the president's request for $110,000,000 "to make good most of the conspicuous shortage" a most modest request.

No nation in the world can match our resources in most of the vital needs of war, Johnson added. However we are without adequate supplies of antimony, manganese, nickel, tin, mica and tungsten and we now must depend upon other nations for our supply. Johnson said he believed some of these shortages could be made up by more intensive use of sources available in our country.

Would Revamp Marriage Laws In Pennsylvania

Would Ban Child Marriages, Make Couples Submit To
Communicable Disease Tests

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 2.—"Marry in haste, repent at leisure" would be a thing of the past in Pennsylvania if a bill drastically revising the state's marriage laws, before the legislature Wednesday, is adopted.

Revamping of the marriage laws, including a ban on child marriages, was sponsored by Sen. John M. Walker, R., Allegheny.

alleged evils of the marriage code, from child marriages to falsifying of court records.

The bill would require that men and women be found free of venereal disease or mental derangement to obtain licenses and would impose a $500 fine on anyone—man or woman—who had been drinking. Wedding of intoxicated persons would be illegal.

Laboratory Tests
The present three-day waiting period between the time a license is obtained and the vows taken would literally be stretched to 10 days by a provision in Walker's bill requiring laboratory tests to prove both parties free from communicable diseases.

Marriages under 18 years of age would be permitted only upon approval of the orphan's court or a general court order, while consent of parents and approval of the court would be required if either party is under 21.

In addition, the bill would provide: A $500 fine on the clerk of the courts for falsifying records; a $100 fine on physicians or laboratory directors "knowingly swearing to false information"; increase the license fee to $2.50; permit marriage by declaration—"without benefit of clergy"—if court authorizes it.

"No more tired"
"let-down feeling" for me

"—I feel and look better

—my weight is back to normal.

"This I am noting in my Diary and I give full credit to S.S.S. for causing me to 'feel like myself again.'"
So we suggest—

Don't try to get well in a day... this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired, lack a keen appetite, have lost weight and feel run-down... a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve—by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic.

At all drug stores in two sizes. You will find the larger size more economical.

Meaning Of Lent Is Sermon Topic Of College Head

Dr. Galbreath Heard In Scholarly Address In Trinity Church

One of the largest congregations ever to greet a Lenten preacher in Trinity church in the last 15 years heard the Rev. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president of Westminster college, last evening. "The Meaning of Lent" was his topic. He developed it from St. Luke 9:51-53, using the literal translation of the Hebrew "He led them with long strides up to Jerusalem," signifying Christ's determined purpose.

Dr. Galbreath thought this might be the beginning of Lent in the experience of Jesus. He pointed out there were periods of preparation in His life before each of the outstanding events in it, and going up to Jerusalem was the preparation for His Passion. As most Christians are glad to share the joys of Christ, Dr. Galbreath asked that they might have fellowship with him in His determinate purposes in daily individual living, in sacrifices, in relationships with others, in the peaceful solution of our problems. The speaker showed persuasively just how many of our difficulties would vanish should we actually adopt Christ's plan or pattern for life. He deplored the fact that millions of dollars are being spent on liquor and that so little money is given on the sacrifices at church, where it would be used to build humanity instead of tear it down. This was the first of the mid-week Wednesday evening Lenten services in Trinity church.

The Leslie Snack Shop, the city's newest delicatessen center which is designed, the owners say, "to remove worry over what you'll serve at luncheon, dinner or that bridge party," opened to the public this afternoon at 16 South Mercer street. Tonight the shop will be open to greet visitors.

The shop will provide a complete selection of ready-cooked foods featuring "Mammy" southern fried chickens, fish and sea food delicacies, choice salads, imported and domestic cheeses, selected delicatessen and luncheon meats.

Manager Edward I. Myers, who comes here from the Beaver Valley, announced that "Jim" Anderson, well-known caterer to scores of district parties and weddings, will supervise the splendid catering service the shop will offer.

The spic and span shop, featuring the very last word in delicatessen shop equipment, is a part of the Leslie hotel system. Telephone orders are to be taken, Manager Myers said, by calling Bell 4809. The shop will be open evenings and Sundays.

New Wilmington High Battles West Newton Quint In Pittsburgh

Class B Tourney Game On Pitt Floor Tonight Starts At 7:30 O'Clock

SECTION 20 CHAMPS PRIMED FOR TUSSELE

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, March 2.—Determined to march on to the semi-final round of the Class B. W. P. I. A. L. basketball tournament, New Wilmington High school's speedy quintet is enroute to Pittsburgh, primed for its important clash with West Newton High, Section 15 pennant winner, tonight at 7:30 o'clock on the spacious Pitt stadium hardwood.

The "Greyhound" squad, Coach John Eagleson, principal Whitman, student managers, newspapermen and several other school officials, boarded a bus early this afternoon enroute to the battle scene. Coach Eagleson pronounced his proteges "in excellent shape for the biggest game of the season."

After subduing the Apollo cagers, victors of Section 21, the New Wilmingtoners were sent through a series of workouts topped by a clash with the Greenville High, Class A. aggregation. Coach Eagleson shifted his lineup around frequently, in the hope of finding a combination which may upset the crack West Newton outfit. In all probability the starting lineup will be similar to the one which faced Apollo. Frew and Minner will likely hold down the forward walls; Captain Jack Mercer will take the center post, while Newton and Shaffer, are slated for the sentinel spots. New Wilmington will use man-to-man defense, subject to a quick shift to the zone system, should the initial style prove ineffective.

Lanky Paul Minner and Captain Mercer, standouts on the New Wilmington, five all season, will be "marked men." The West Newton club has worked out a plan to bottle up the high scoring "twins." Shaffer, Newton and Frew are expected to supply their usual high class floor maneuvers which may carry the locals into the semi-finals.

West Newton put itself in the favorite list by winning an easy 32-25 victory over the Redstone club. Lindauer, at forward, Hula, at center, and Scholl, at guard, will be the college towners' plenty of trouble. This trio has been mainly responsible for the flock of triumphs adorning the West Newton record.

The game, a preliminary to the Butler-Charlottesville Class A. conflict, will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Several hundred fans are expected to be in the stands rooting for the locals.

The starting lineup: N. Wilmington W. Newton
F. Lindauer
Minner F. Lindauer
Mercer C. C. Abbott
Shaffer G. G. Hula
Newton G. G. Scholl

City Baseball Managers Again Elect Schirra

Father Schirra Will Head League Second Year, Babovsky Re-named Secretary

DANNY DeGENOVA IS VICE-PRESIDENT

New Castle is going to have another fast City Baseball league this summer, it was indicated last night at the first meeting of the year held at the St. Joseph's Parish House with Father Peter M. Schirra, president of the league in charge of the meeting. An election of officers for the new year was held by the managers in attendance and Father Schirra was re-elected to head the organization.

There were seven clubs represented at the meeting as follows: West Pittsburgh by Danny DeGenova and Blackie Pundoots; Mahoning A. A. by Mike Orlando, West Side Tigers by Jim Rote and Tommy McCormick; St. Josephs by Jimmy Steiner and George Metz; Lawrence Indies by "Boss" Zidow and Del Baker, Gus' Big Nine by Gus Slovinsky and Slovak Club by Secretary Babovsky who is also chairman of the board of directors at the Slovak Club.

Expect Fast League Other teams expected to enter the league at the next meeting to be held March 17 are: Ryanians, K. Pulaskis, Union Civics, Red Sox, and Elder A. C. team.

Danny DeGenova was named as vice-president of the league to succeed Joe Samuels and Michael "Jake" Babovsky who has served the league in its first two years so efficiently as secretary and treasurer will again look after the details and funds. At the next meeting of the league contracts, player lists and umpires will be taken up for discussion. A board of commissioners will also be chosen at the next meeting.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Race horse enthusiasts have their eyes glued toward Saturday when two of the choicest events in the year's racing will be staged. One, the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap and two, the $50,000 Widener challenge cup event at Hialeah park. Santa Anita the turf followers are endeavoring to dope the winner. Seabiscuit having been scratched there is no outstanding favorite but in the Widener cup classic there should be a great deal of flying hoofs when Stagehand runs. In fact, horsemen believe Colonel Mack Howard of Dayton, O., made a mistake when he shipped Stagehand to Florida instead of to California.

In the Santa Anita classic, the richest of the year, there has been entered Cravat, Kayak II, Today, Specifi, Whicheck, Don Mike, Gorum, Sortado, Main Man, Congressman, Thanksgiving, Reefly, Jacala, Quick Devil and Sweepalot. Sweepalot, carrying 109 pounds, is a 50 to 1 choice to win. Sortado, carrying 124 pounds, is a 30 to 1 shot.

At Hialeah park, Stagehand will not be the only well known horse in the race. The field will include Pasturehand, victor in the Belmont stakes and Bull Lea, winner of five important stakes last year. Stagehand was one of the outstanding horses last year, being overshadowed only by Seabiscuit.

Pedro Montanez, Puerto Rican lightweight and Jackie Kid Berg, British veteran, have been matched for a 10-round bout in New York, March 10. Ernie Lombardi, 1938 National League batting champion and voted the league's most valuable player last year, is confined to his Tampa, Fla., bed with influenza.

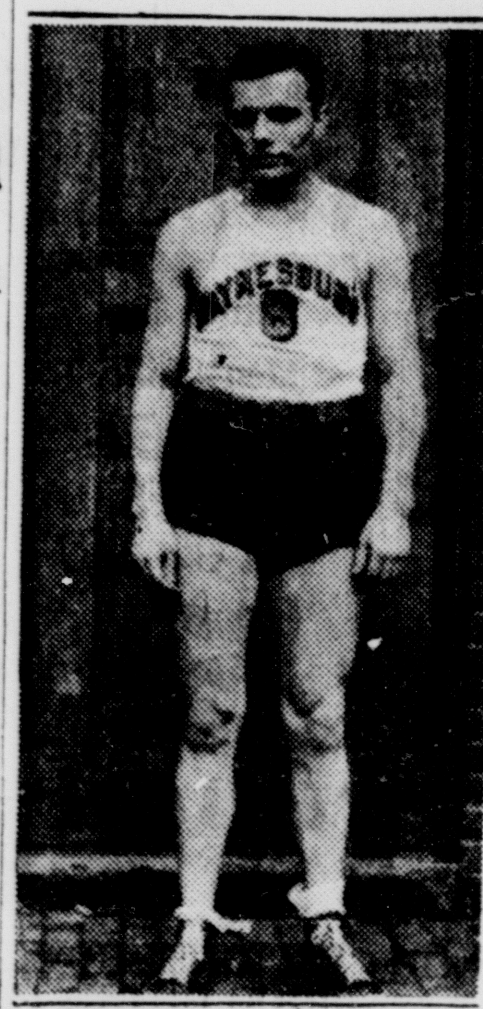

Spring is not far distant; that is, if indications in Owen Fox, the city's zoologist, reported today that "grinnies" or ground squirrels have made their appearance. All of the other hibernating animals folk in the park, skunks and groundhogs enjoy their romp in the open daily, Fox said.

The Lawrence County Coon Hunters Association has made arrangements for a coon and fox chase at the New Castle Fair grounds. It will be the first meet of the season.

Warm weather has melted some of the snow from the city streets. However, plenty of it is still on the ground. Instead of throwing the stale bread in the garbage can place it where birds can get it. They'll show their appreciation by singing lustily this spring and summer. Food placed in rural districts will help hunting this year.

It will not be long until the basketball sport will have ended for this year. However, as soon as this sport dies down there will be ushered in baseball. Already some of the young element have been playing catch. Scrub will follow and when May arrives regular games in local leagues will get under way.

Plan To Revive Tennis In City

With spring in the air it is time to start thinking about a sport that used to be very popular in these parts, tennis. And this year tennis is destined to climb to the heights it enjoyed at one time in New Castle. The Progressive club has already started work to bring this about.

The club has purchased a twenty-four inch loving cup to give to the one who comes out on top at the end of the tournament they have planned.

Also work is under way to give our city a court on which night tennis can be played. To our mind this is a pioneer project, as night tennis has never been attempted in New Castle before.

GAME IS CALLED OFF

The scheduled Keystone A. C. and St. Nicholas game for the K. Pulaski hall tonight, has been called off, due to the inability of the St. Nick's to obtain the floor for the game. All players of both teams are asked to take notice of the cancelling of the game.

There will be three more games Friday in the New Castle Church basketball league. It was announced today. The first game at 7:45 o'clock will have the Third U. P. playing the Central Presbyterians.

The second game, will find the Second U. P. and First Christian battling, and in the third game the Epworth M. E. meets the Greek Orthodox team.

Cold Finish, Balbos Win In Exciting Games

Cold Finish Tightens First Half Lead After Being Threatened By Cold Draw

ELLWOOD CITY, March 2.—Climate endings that provide a maximum of thrills for the spectators and a maximum of "jitters" for the players featured both of the inter-department basketball league games last night at the Shelby Court.

By staging a sensational rally in the last three periods after being limited to a charity heave in the first quarter, the Cold Finish showed the stuff of which champions are made when they nosed out a determined Cold Draw five 52-46 score in the final minutes of play. The victory keeps the Cold Finish in first place and definitely strengthens their hold on the top rung. Scoring was quite evenly divided among all of the players of both teams.

After having a comfortable lead in the first three periods, the inspection "went to town" in the final period to tie the knot at 39-all with the Balbos. With the score at 37-35 Latiano sank a long basket from mid-court, and Gattuso added a free shot. Long shots by Hazen and Latiano in the dying seconds tied the score. The ultimate winners easily out-scored the fighting Inspection 10-5 in the extra period to determine the winner. High-lighting the match was the sensation scoring of Latiano who ended with 22 points. Bianco, Robuck and Pusco were high for the winners.

Tonight the Inspection plays the Cold Draw and the Hot Finish meets the Office in postponed games. The first game begins at 7 o'clock.

Ellwood To Have Festival In July

Merchants Division Of Chamber Of Commerce Agrees On Proposed Fete

ELLWOOD CITY, March 2.—The Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce has accepted the committee report of the Festival Committee. The report recommended that the Ellwood City Festival be held on July 4th, 5th and 6th with a huge parade being staged again on the afternoon of July 4th and gigantic fireworks display in the evening.

The theme of the Festival this year will be of the "Good Neighbor" type with invitations of participation in the affair being sent to Butler, Beaver Falls and New Castle.

Paxton Pike was unanimously selected as general chairman of the affair and he was given full power to select his own committee from the entire city.

The Division went on record as definitely opposed to a "Believe It or Not" show and sent a committee to the council meeting to proclaim their reasons for opposing the show. Ellwood City firemen were assured of the fullest cooperation from the Merchants Division for the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's convention.

A special house to house canvassing ordinance will be presented to council for their approval. The ordinance would not effect local persons selling to make a living nor would it effect local civic, fraternal, patriotic or church organizations.

"Pennsylvania Days" Drive To Aid Business In State Under Way

ELLWOOD CITY, March 2.—Today Ellwood City residents will see the down town stores displaying Pennsylvania made products. This is keeping in line with the statewide movement to have March 2 to March 11 dedicated to "Pennsylvania days for Pennsylvania Prosperity."

The Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce stated today that "Pennsylvania Days" offer an opportunity not only to aid business and industry here in Pennsylvania but for our citizens to share in lower prices and greater values which will be featured in practically all lines during the next two weeks.

In the course laid out by Governor Arthur H. James, it is an initial step to revive and reopen "our own home market"—the market that has made Pennsylvania the Keystone State of a great United States.

The chain stores of the state originated the idea in response to Governor James request to aid employment and business in Pennsylvania.

life. In the picture Mrs. Grace Hillyer, chairman of the executive committee of the Committee to Save China's Children, is shown with Gloria

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—MAN OF LETTERS

Vivien Leigh Has Greatest Chance Ever Given Actress

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, March 2.—Because she is playing the plum queen role of the decade—Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind"—Vivien Leigh is given a better chance than the average foreign actress of lasting stardom in Hollywood.
If she clicks, she'll be one of the stars made overnight. If her performance fails to hit par, she'll be lucky if she ever gets another role of any kind in an American production.

Biggest Chance
Boiled down to hard fact, she's got the biggest chance ever offered any actress; she's also taking the biggest chance.

Only one out of ten foreign actresses, at best, win the support of American audiences.
Miss Leigh has this in her favor—English actresses as a whole succeed more often than those of any other nationality.

Consider Merle Oberon, Madeleine Carroll, Binnie Barnes, Wendy Barrie and Ida Lupino as examples.
Diana Wynyard clicked in "Cavalcade" and "Rasputin" and still is under contract to M-G-M although she's in London. Elissa Landi, regarded as one of the most intellectual as well as beautiful women ever to come to Hollywood, unfortunately liked the stage better than the screen.

Other Emotional Actresses
No English actress, however, even has the emotional support given to women of other races.
Of the screen's most exotic women, Garbo is a Swede, Marlene Diet-

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 42), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.
Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.
Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

rich a German, Hedy Lamarr an Austrian and Claudette Colbert and Danielle Darrieux come from Paris. Lupe Velez and Dolores Del Rio, whom Hollywood experts regard as having the most truly beautiful figures, come from Mexico.
Vienna has given its share of stars to Hollywood, chiefly Louise Rainer, one of the three two-time winners of the academy award. Miliza Korjus, an instant hit in "The Great Waltz," is another.
Simone Simon was one French actress who never seemed to quite get over, despite studio ballyhoo, and is now reported to be doing better in French films. Another French siren, Annabella, Tyrone Power's heart throb, almost failed here due to language difficulties.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Not many persons die from appendicitis.
Many do die from spreading peritonitis.
This results from a ruptured appendix.
Annually, 75,000 suffer from spreading peritonitis.
One out of every four of these sufferers dies.
Laxatives are the chief cause of this complication.
Laxatives increase the activity of the intestines.
With appendicitis such activity extends the inflammation.
Delay in appendicitis operation also causes many deaths.
Abdominal pain which lasts four hours is serious.
Take nothing by mouth, never take a laxative.
With proper conduct of appendicitis cases very few die.

REPAIRING STREETS

AROUND CITY HALL

Whatever assessments Assessor A. C. Shoaf and assistant, John Cartwright, make this year, they will be the valuations for 1940-1942, inclusive. They are now studying the ground assessments of the Second ward in the assessor's office.

Provision has been made in the city wage ordinances for a special officer in Cascade Park this summer at a wage of $85.00, monthly.

Although the city has attempted to help property-owners by having the latter pay for materials and WPA labor do the work there remains many sidewalks here which are in a bad condition.

John Street has been working in the city engineer's office for some time. He helps the city plans for paving. However, he is paid by the WPA and not the city.

So far no announcement has been made as to whether or not the city will operate the dance pavilion at Cascade Park this summer. Sometime ago it was said all leases terminated last December. If the city runs the pavilion it must engage an orchestra to provide dance music.

Display of the white police cars on city streets during the day time might go far toward helping to educate the public to consider at all times the auto regulations. The white cars are sent out only when calls for service arrive during daylight hours. They do cruising duty from 4 p. m. until 8 a. m.

Secretary to the civil service board for police and firemen receives $10.00 for work performed during each meeting. The commissioners serve free as do members of other city boards, such as the park commission, library board, zoning and planning commission.

Terms of Mayor Charles E. McGrath and Councilmen J. M. Rice and J. L. Pink expire this year. Councilmen J. D. Alexander and W. H. Dunlap will be hold-overs. A municipal election will be held this year.
